

Vascular and Endovascular Surgery Research Center

Mashhad University of Medical Sciences

Introduction

Vascular and endovascular surgery research center in Mashhad was established in year 2001. It does research projects aimed at understanding and better treatments for vascular diseases, especially cases that are common in our region and to enhance knowledge in the field of national vessels disease. The center has trained capable faculty in research and it is approved by expansion Council of medical sciences universities.

Objectives

- Developing and applying human knowledge in the field of human vessel surgery
- Perform fundamental research, epidemiological and clinical services for health care reform and accountability to the country's Islamic community needs
- Collect, arrange and classify documents, articles and relevant documents and publish them
- Training human resources and researcher in the field of vascular surgery Endovascular
- Encourage, promote and employing researchers
- Trying to draw attention and cooperation in research and the relevant executive centers in the country
- Scientific cooperation with research and training centers in other countries and international organizations in compliance with rules and regulations of the Islamic Republic of Iran

